

1.2

The window observation

The subject will be observed at the kitchen window between seven and nine in the morning, holding a mug, looking at the garden. This is not planning. No plan results from it.

The behaviour is understood to be a form of negotiation with an opponent who does not know the negotiation is happening.

Inspectors should note that the garden is winning, and has been winning since March.

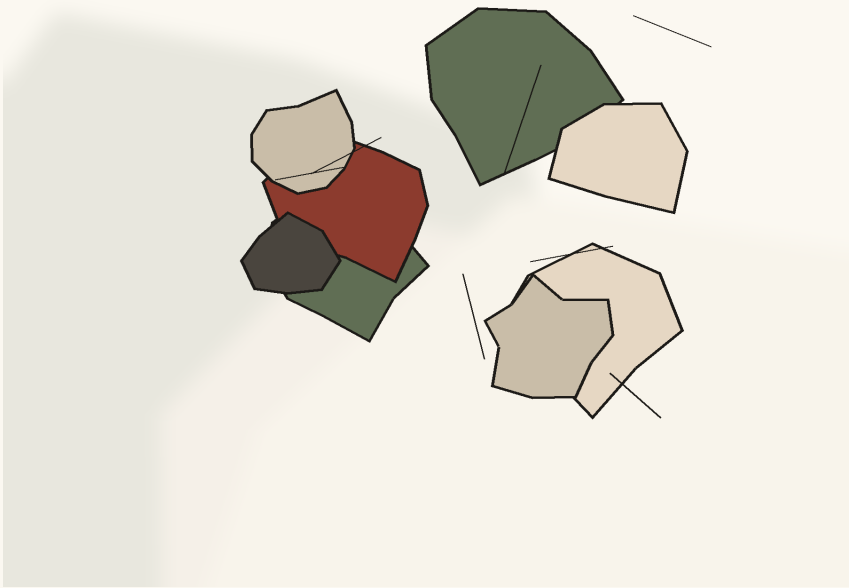

Fig. 1.2 - The subject, at the window, holding the mug.