

STAGE SEVEN

By this stage most participants have made progress. They have attended a family occasion, mown a lawn and spoken for three minutes without mentioning the 7th. This progress is fragile. It can be undone by one sunny weekend, a text from Keith or the arrival of the new season fixture list. This stage is about recognising the danger in time.